Traditional Circuit

Ischigualasto Provincial Park has a total extension of more than 63.000 hectares with different circuits. The main tour is called "Traditional Circuit". It is 42km long and it can be visited in 3 hours approximately. Along this circuit there are 5 stops, each of them with their own geoform and contrast of colors. Two fundamental aspects are distinguished in this circuit, one is the scientific characteristic and the other one is the landscape characteristic. The first one is given by the geological and paleontological wealth.

The large amount of continental sediments in this place belong to the Triassic Period of the Mesozoic Era, which were formed more than 200 millions years ago and make it one of the richest fossil basins in the world.

The landscape characteristic is created by the presence of geoforms or figures that arise from the action of the wind, which constantly blows and, consequently, erodes large blocks of compacted sandstone. Our visitors' imagination makes these figures receive names such as El Hongo, El Submarino, La Esfinge, Cancha de Bochas, among others.

By law N° 3666, the local government declared Ischigualasto a provincial park in 1971, with the purpose of preserving its natural wealth. On November 2000, Ischigualasto park was declared World Heritage Site by UNESCO.
